Disappointing Outing At ADRL Dragstock For MPS/Thyen Racing Pro Mod

Casselberry, Florida, 9/12/2011 With the fire damage finally repaired, we loaded up for much needed testing before ADRL Dragstock in Rockingham. We headed to Carolina Dragway and made three 330 foot hits resulting in our best 330s ever and one hurt motor. Changing engines made for a late start on our trip to Rockingham. US 1 between Columbia, SC and Cheraw, SC now gets my nomination for the one of the world's bumpiest roads. We arrived at Rockingham at 3:30 AM with parts tossed all over the inside of the trailer. After a few hours sleep we prepped the bike for the first lap. Optimistic we had a good tune up, we expected to run in the high 20s. The first pass netted a disappointing 4.40. We had softened the tune up because we weren't sure what hurt the first motor. We quickly took apart the first motor to see if the damage was tune up related. We decided it was not tune up related and got more aggressive with the tune up for the second qualifying lap. This resulted in hurting our last motor and ending our weekend. This weekend was definitely a disappointment and not what we had
